July 10, 2019

Liz Banicki
Legislative Assistant
Senator Dan Sullivan

Dear Liz:

Elizabeth Glaser Pediatric AIDS Foundation and RESULTS Educational Fund are pleased to invite you on a unique Learning Trip to Tanzania, where you will have the opportunity to see firsthand how U.S. investments are working to address Tanzania's key development challenges and to improve the health of vulnerable populations. The trip will take place from August 17 – August 24, 2019 (including travel days) and will include meetings with U.S., Tanzanian, and NGO partners, visits to program sites in the field, and interactions with community workers and beneficiaries.

We hope this trip will be a resource for your office as you consider the U.S. Government's role in overseas development assistance, in particular – HIV and tuberculosis response, maternal and child health, nutrition and early child development. On the trip, you'll visit Elizabeth Glaser Pediatric AIDS Foundation and partner programming focused on solving key challenges in these areas. You'll have the opportunity to interact with community workers and beneficiaries, as well as witness innovative development solutions that are empowering hundreds of thousands of Tanzanians. You'll also dialogue with government officials who implement these solutions on a local and national stage.

After achieving independence from Britain in 1961, Tanganyika and Zanzibar united to form the United Republic of Tanzania in 1964. Tanzania has made significant gains towards stability, economic growth, and improved public health and shared prosperity, but significant development challenges remain: the country is ranked 154 out of 189 countries and territories on the United Nations Human Development Index with low levels of educational completion and access to health facilities. Tanzania is home to over 55 million people, two-thirds of whom are under 25 years of age, which poses challenges for the government to expand health and education services to match the pace of population growth. Tanzania has sustained high economic growth over the past ten years and had the highest real GDP growth rate in the East African Community in 2017. But although the poverty rate has declined, the absolute number of poor citizens has not, due to high population growth. Managing Tanzania's new revenues and equitably sharing their benefits will present new challenges; continued leadership from the government of Tanzania, coupled with the commitment of development partners like the United States, will be needed to make progress against persistent levels of poverty.

We hope that you will be able to participate in this educational and exciting trip. Please note the attached draft trip itinerary for your reference, and feel free to reach out if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Katie Lapidés Coester
