United States Senator
United States Senate

Dear Senator Portman

I'm writing with an invitation to speak at the annual Aspen Ideas Festival, the preeminent public gathering of the Aspen Institute produced in partnership with NBC. Now in its 18th year, the Festival attracts a global audience of business and government leaders as well as experts in the sciences, arts, tech, and education.

Specifically, we are eager to have you join Pat Gelsinger in dialogue about supply chain issues and the kinds of steps that we need to take to thwart future disruptions.

We would gladly work with your team to determine the specific topic(s) and speaking format you prefer. The Festival spans June 25th to July 1st. We plan to host this 45 minute discussion June 28th, 11:15am MT.

Your engagement at the Aspen Ideas Festival would be on a large stage, with an expansive digital audience as well. We have a world class line up of journalists to choose from for your interviewer, and excellent press coverage. You are permitted to bring a guest to the festival as well.

I hope you can join us. The Festival's atmosphere is inspiring, with the Rockies as our backdrop during the longest days of the year. Thank you for considering our invitation.

All the best,

Daniel R. Porterfield
President and CEO
The Aspen Institute

If the trip includes two overnight stays, please explain why the second night is practically required for Senate invitees to participate in the travel:

21. Describe how the daily expenses for lodging, meals, and other expenses provided to trip participants compares to the maximum per diem rates for official Federal Government travel:

Our lodging, meals and expenses are based on the best available rates in Aspen, CO and are necessary to hosting the Aspen Ideas Festival. Meal per diem rates exceed the GSA guidelines and are calculated based on the agreed-upon conference rate with the hotel. Lodging per diem rates also excceed the GSA guidelines. These are the best available rates in Aspen and this is the hotel closest to the campus where the festival takes places.
