Purpose and Details

Provide a brief description of the trip.

This learning trip provides an opportunity for Congressional staff to learn about the U.S. Center's for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) global health activities at the Agency's headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia. The participants will meet with CDC global health leadership and technical experts, and have first-hand tours of the Emergency Operations Center, mosquito insectary, and infectious disease laboratory, as they learn about CDC's work to implement life-saving global health interventions, provide technical expertise, and strengthen disease surveillance in countries around the world.

Explain how the purpose of the trip relates to your organization's mission.

The UN Foundation works to educate all Americans, including Members and Staff of the U.S. Congress, on the importance of a strong U.S.-UN relationship, with a particular focus on bilateral and multilateral global health issues such as global immunization, malaria, and child health. Participants will learn how CDC bilateral global health interventions work in complement with, and are amplified by, multilateral UN global health activities.

Is your organization the only sponsor for this trip?

Meals Exceeding Per Diem, Explained

- Thursday's dinner is a private dinner with CDC Senior Staff at a restaurant in Decatur, GA, using a private space.
 - The cost of the least expensive prix fixe menu is $43 per person, there is an additional 8% tax and required 20% tip, bringing the total to approximately $55.73 per person.
 - This menu does not include any alcohol.
- On Friday, staff will have three meals during the last day of travel.
 - The hotel does not have a complimentary breakfast; the breakfast per diem is $17. A good faith estimate of breakfast is $12 - $15 for an entrée and $4 - $5 for a coffee or other non-alcoholic breakfast beverage.
 - The CDC's recommended restaurant for lunch, brough on site, is approximately $3 per soft drink and $16 per entrée, for a total of $19.
 - As the flight will take off at approximately 8:37pm local ATL, congressional staff will need to eat dinner at the airport. A good faith estimate is $25.

Meals Exceeding Per Diem, Explained

- Thursday's dinner is a private dinner with CDC Senior Staff at a restaurant in Decatur, GA, using a private space.
 - The cost of the least expensive prix fixe menu is $43 per person, there is an additional 8% tax and required 20% tip, bringing the total to approximately $55.73 per person.
 - This menu does not include any alcohol.
- On Friday, staff will have three meals during the last day of travel.
 - The hotel does not have a complimentary breakfast; the breakfast per diem is $17. A good faith estimate of breakfast is $12 - $15 for an entrée and $4 - $5 for a coffee or other non-alcoholic breakfast beverage.
 - The CDC's recommended restaurant for lunch, brought on site, is approximately $3 per soft drink and $16 per entrée, for a total of $19.
 - As the flight will take off at approximately 8:37pm local ATL, congressional staff will need to eat dinner at the airport. A good faith estimate is $25.

Dear Evan,

On behalf of the United Nations Foundation, I am writing to invite you to participate in an educational trip to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention in Atlanta, Georgia. The goal of the visit is to learn about CDC's global health expertise in detecting and preventing deadly and debilitating diseases overseas, increasing and empowering local health capacity, and protecting Americans at home and abroad. You will have the opportunity to meet with senior CDC leadership as well as Division Directors from across multiple global health and infectious disease offices. Trip participants will depart from Washington Reagan Airport (DCA) on the afternoon of Thursday, May 11, and return to DCA on the evening of Friday, May 12.

The COVID-19 pandemic remains a stark reminder that in our deeply interconnected world, a disease can spread from an isolated area of the world to any major city in as little as 36 hours. For over 60 years, CDC's public health experts in Atlanta and global staff have worked around the clock to stop the spread of disease by detecting and controlling outbreaks at their source. This expertise has also helped countries strengthen their own capacity to prevent, detect, and respond to public health threats.

The trip itinerary will examine two areas of global health threats – vaccine-preventable diseases and malaria – during a day of discussions with CDC leadership, a tour of the agency's Emergency Operations Center, deep dives into the fight to eradicate polio and eliminate measles and rubella, global health security, and walk-throughs of the pioneering mosquito insectary and parasitic disease labs.

I ask that you RSVP to this invitation as soon as possible, and no later than Monday, April 3. I hope you will be able to join this opportunity, as I am confident that learning more about CDC's leading role in strengthening global health will be particularly beneficial to your work in Congress.

Best regards,
Brian Massa
