NOTE: If you plan to extend the trip for any reason you must notify the Committee.

Explain how this trip is specifically connected to the traveler's official or representational duties.

I'm currently handling policy for our Africa portfolio. In this capacity, I was accepted into the Foundation for Defense of Democracies' Barish Center for Media Integrity. FDD has been running educational national security trips to Israel since 2011-the proposed itinerary consists of seminars, security briefings, surveys, and meetings with Members of Knesset - collectively, these experiences will undoubtedly contribute to my development in the foreign relations/national security arena.

Dear Xavier,

On behalf of the Foundation for Defense of Democracy (FDD), we would like to invite you to participate in the 2023 Barish Center for Media Integrity Trip to Israel. The trip will depart Washington D.C. on Thursday afternoon, August 3, 2023, and return to Washington D.C. on Friday morning, August 11.

The week-long trip is designed as a study in the role of communications in national security. Throughout the week, trip participants will travel around Israel to participate in off-the-record high-level meetings with Israel's top national security brass; current and former Israeli, Palestinian, and American national security decision makers; military officials; journalists; and seasoned communications experts in the field of national security.

All trip-related expenses will be paid for by FDD and comply with congressional ethics rules.

We hope you will be able to join us on this unique and important trip.

History of Congressional Travel

Describe your organization's history of sponsoring congressional travel.

FDD has been running educational national security focused trips to Israel for mid-career U.S. national security practitioners since 2011. Congressional staff have participated on a number of our trips throughout the years. These trips to Israel provide a case study in how a robust democracy navigates constant threats to the homeland.

Educational Activities

Describe the educational activities performed by your organization other than sponsoring congressional travel.

The Foundation for Defense of Democracies (FDD) is a Washington, DC-based nonpartisan 501(c)(3) research institute focusing on national security and foreign policy. FDD conducts in-depth research, produces accurate and timely analyses, identifies illicit activities, and provides policy options – all with the aim of strengthening U.S. national security and reducing or eliminating threats posed by adversaries and enemies of the United States and other free nations.

Purpose and Details

Provide a brief description of the trip.

FDD's Barish Center for Media Integrity Trip to Israel is a seven-day trip that offers a fact-based, nuanced understanding of a country that faces unique strategic communications and public diplomacy challenges. Throughout the week, trip participants will travel around Israel to participate in off-the-record high-level meetings with Israel's top national security brass; current and former Israeli, Palestinian, and American national security decision makers; journalists; military officials; and leaders in the private sector.

Explain how the purpose of the trip relates to your organization's mission.

FDD believes that Israel serves as a useful laboratory for teaching the next generation of U.S. national security leaders best practices in national security, public diplomacy, and counterterrorism. The trip will offer a fact-based, nuanced understanding of a country that faces unique public diplomacy and strategic communications challenges. Participants will do a deep dive into the complex issues that a democracy confronts in the face of ongoing national security threats to the homeland. It is part of FDD's strategic mission to provide educational opportunities for the next generation of U.S. national security leaders and communicators.

Is your organization the only sponsor for this trip?

☐ Yes ☒ No

If No, describe your organization's role in planning the trip.

FDD recruited, selected, and confirmed the trip participants. We worked together with our additional sponsor on organizing the itinerary, trip speakers, site visits, and content.

If there are multiple sponsors, each sponsor must submit Organization Information (Page 1 of the Private Sponsor Travel Certification Form) and a Signature Page Form.
