AMERICA FIRST
DIGITAL FOUNDATION

April 4, 2025

Joe Jackson
Senior Advisor
Senator Lummis

Dear Joe,

On behalf of the America First Digital Foundation, I am pleased to invite you to join our inaugural Congressional Staff Delegation to Bitcoin Las Vegas 2025, taking place Monday, May 26 through Thursday, May 29, 2025, in Las Vegas, Nevada.

The America First Digital Foundation, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, is dedicated to equipping Members of Congress and their staff with the knowledge and tools to understand and navigate the rapidly evolving world of Bitcoin and digital assets. Our programming is strictly educational, nonpartisan, and designed to help policymakers explore how cryptocurrency and blockchain technology impact innovation, economic growth, and American leadership in the digital economy.

Participation in Bitcoin 2025, the world's largest Bitcoin-focused gathering, will provide you with direct exposure to thought leaders and innovators shaping the digital asset space. We have curated a series of briefings, policy-relevant conference sessions, and expert-led discussions to deepen congressional understanding of the opportunities and challenges presented by digital currencies and decentralized finance.

The Foundation will cover reasonable travel, lodging, and meal expenses in accordance with all applicable House and Senate ethics rules for privately sponsored travel. A detailed agenda and itinerary are enclosed. A copy will be submitted to the Ethics Committee for pre-approval, as required.

Please note that the America First Digital Foundation does not employ or retain lobbyists. While Bitcoin 2025 is a large public event and may attract attendees who are registered lobbyists, any interaction with such individuals will be incidental, de minimis, and outside our programming's scope or control. Our sponsored educational activities will remain strictly nonpartisan and policy-focused, fully complying with ethics guidelines for privately sponsored travel.

An informed Congress is essential to ensuring America's continued leadership in the digital age. We hope you'll join us for this timely and impactful opportunity.

To RSVP, simply reply to this email confirming your attendance by Thursday, April 24, 2025. Once registered, ethics paperwork will be submitted through the committee's privately sponsored travel portal.

For questions or additional information, feel free to contact me directly.

Sincerely,

James Kimmey
America First Digital Foundation

History of Congressional Travel

The America First Digital Foundation is a newly established nonprofit organization with 501(c)(3) status pending, and this will be our first time sponsoring congressional travel.

Educational Activities

America First Digital Foundation is in the early stages of developing a comprehensive suite of educational programs focused on Bitcoin, blockchain technology, and the broader digital asset space. Our mission is to equip Members of Congress and their staff with the knowledge and tools necessary to navigate the rapidly evolving digital economy. While our inaugural event involves sponsoring congressional travel to the Bitcoin 2025 Conference, we are actively planning additional educational initiatives, including workshops and seminars in Washington, D.C., featuring industry experts to discuss the implications of digital assets on innovation and economic growth along with developing accessible resources that provide clear, nonpartisan information on digital assets and their role in the modern economy. These initiatives aim to foster informed policymaking and support America's leadership in the digital economy.

Purpose and Details

Provide a brief description of the trip.

America First Digital Foundation is sponsoring its first educational delegation for congressional staff to attend Bitcoin 2025 in Las Vegas. This trip is designed to deepen staff understanding of the policy, regulatory, and economic dimensions of Bitcoin and digital assets. Bitcoin 2025 is the world's largest Bitcoin-focused conference, bringing together global leaders in technology, finance, and public policy. AFDF has curated a nonpartisan, policy-relevant experience that includes access to key sessions, private briefings, and nightly dinners featuring expert speakers. Topics will include U.S. digital asset regulation, blockchain innovation, and the economic and geopolitical implications of Bitcoin. AFDF will cover reasonable travel, lodging, and meal expenses in full compliance with Senate and House Ethics rules. This initiative directly supports AFDF's mission to prepare congressional staff to thoughtfully engage with emerging digital technologies shaping the global economy.

Explain how the purpose of the trip relates to your organization's mission.

The purpose of this trip is to provide congressional staff with a deeper understanding of the policy, regulatory, and economic dimensions of Bitcoin and digital assets—topics that are rapidly growing in importance across multiple legislative areas, including finance, national security, technology, and economic competitiveness. This directly aligns with AFDF's mission of equipping Members of Congress and their staff with nonpartisan, accessible education about emerging digital financial technologies. By offering curated access to expert speakers, policy-relevant conference content, and private briefings, this trip supports AFDF's goal of ensuring policymakers are well-informed as they navigate the evolving digital economy. As a newly formed educational organization, this trip represents our first major initiative and reflects our commitment to providing meaningful, ethics-compliant learning opportunities tailored to the needs of congressional staff.

Is your organization the only sponsor for this trip?
