Hi Peter-Anthony,

How are you? I hope you are keeping well. You may remember we were in touch last year regarding IPBC Global. I am writing with the hope that you would like to join us as a speaker at the event this year, taking place in Boston on 9-11 June.

IPBC Global is a firm fixture in the calendar for IP leaders from around the world to gather under one roof to do a years' worth of business in just three days. This year we are set to change our traditional ways to deliver the most impactful event yet.

Three new stages – Innovation Unleashed, Cultivating Creativity, and the IP Arena – will deliver over 20 hours of content designed to inspire, debate, and ignite world-class discussion at the heart of IP value creation. We have a brand-new AI powered app to enable connections with over 650 attendees who are most aligned with attendees interests and goals. Plus, we have over 15 hours of powerful face-to-face engagement to immerse yourself in, including focused shared meeting spaces and our must-attend closing party.

We would love for you to deliver insight on the session, Panel: Trump's return to the Oval Office. Given your esteemed position at the Senator Tillis' Office, and recommendations from peers, you are the ideal person to inspire and educate our audience. Please see the details below and agenda attached.

Panel: Trump's return to the Oval Office

Tuesday 11 June – 4.30-5.30pm

- Developments and expectations at the six-month mark
- Trump's patent people: the voices steering policy
- Pending legislation: what's out, what's in and what's next?

We believe that your participation would greatly enhance the value of our event and provide attendees with actionable insight to implement into their day-to-day strategy.

Should you have any questions or would like further information, please don't hesitate to contact me. If you are interested in participating, I would be very grateful if you could please let me know this week.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,
Isobel
