Michael Sinacore
Policy Advisor, Senate HELP Committee
428 Dirksen Senate Office Building
50 Constitution Ave NE, Washington, DC 20002

Dear Michael,

On behalf of the Progressive Policy Institute (PPI), we would like to invite you to join us for a transatlantic delegation to Brussels and Berlin, departing on Monday, May 26th, 2025 and returning on Saturday, May 31st, 2025.

This trip will feature a select, bipartisan group of senior staff in the House and Senate committed to facilitating strong international relations and promoting American prosperity. With a new Congress, a new Administration, and a new E.U. Parliament and Commission, now is an opportune time to exchange ideas on how the U.S. and the E.U. should approach the policy relationship.

PPI first started taking key bipartisan congressional staff to Europe in 2014 and we have hosted delegation trips several times a year since. We have now brought over 170 offices to visit European capitals and exchange dialogues on mutual policy objectives. While E.U. policy proposals can sometimes be at odds with U.S. interests, we believe the best way to approach these issues is to engage in productive dialogues with the decision makers across Europe.

This trip will spend two days in Brussels meeting with key E.U. officials before spending two days in Berlin meeting with the new government and policy experts in the German capital.

Among the key questions and topics we will focus on:

- The Biden/Harris Administration agreed with many of the E.U. regulations on U.S. investment in Europe but the new Administration and Congress will take a more critical approach. How should the U.S. and E.U. approach the regulatory relationship moving forward?
- As the E.U. takes a critical look at its regulatory framework and the impact it is having on investment and growth (see the Draghi report) what best practices from the U.S. can we offer?
- What will the international energy policy landscape look like in the new year following a cold European winter, the interruption of natural gas through Ukraine pipelines, and the future of US LNG exports?
- What will the election and new government in Germany mean for the E.U. and for the U.S.?
- How can the E.U. begin to take the lead on supporting Ukraine in the future?

PPI is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization with a long history of providing educational programming on current policy issues, including transatlantic exchanges with our international partners. This trip is planned in compliance with House and Senate ethics rules.
