Dear Dan,

I am writing you today on behalf of the Employee Ownership Foundation to formally invite you to attend the Oxford Symposium on Employee Ownership. The official program would begin at 6:00 pm on Monday, August 3, 2025 and conclude after the closing dinner on Thursday, August 7, 2025. Due to the time zone differences and predominate flight schedules between Washington, DC and London, UK, this would likely require your departure on the overnight outbound flights on Sunday, August 2 in order to arrive in time to participate in the Monday program and your return from London back to Washington on mid-day flights on Friday August 8.

This annual event is a gathering of the leaders, stakeholders, and decision makers in the international employee ownership movement where participants learn about and discuss major issues and obstacles to participatory capitalism and employee ownership. The first portion of the symposium is held in London on Monday August 3 and Tuesday August 4 in order to accommodate government officials and presenters stationed in London. Participants are then transported via motorcoach to Oxford on Tuesday evening for the balance of the symposium at Oxford University.

Please find attached the event and subject matter schedules that you will need to provide to the Senate ethics committee along with your specific air travel arrangements. Because we do not know your particular departure or return preferences (any of the Washington, DC area airports, airlines, availability or preferences, etc.,) and because we would prefer to not manage any sensitive or personal information such as passport numbers, we would ask that you make your own air travel decisions and submit those receipts to us for reimbursement. With the required ethics approvals, your travel expenses would be sponsored by the Employee Ownership Foundation as described in the materials I have provided to the ethics committee including transportation, lodging, and meals. In order to meet the required 30 day cut-off period prior to travel as required by the House rules, you must file your travel materials no later than July 3, 2025.

We are anticipating more than 130 participants and attendees from more than 27 nations. For further information about the symposium, please look here: <http://eosymposium.org/> Should you have any questions, or require any further information, please feel free to reach us at 202-293-2971.

I truly hope you will be able to join us for this important symposium and discussion at Oxford in August.

With warm regards,
