 WORLD FORUM | SEA ISLAND, GA

August 22, 2023

The Honorable Katie Britt
United States Senate
502 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Senator Britt:

I am writing to invite you to the American Enterprise Institute's annual World Forum, which will be held March 7-10, 2024, in Sea Island, Georgia.

AEI's World Forum has a remarkable 40-year history that has made it one of the most important gatherings of influential leaders grappling with the most critical policy challenges of the day. Every year, we convene a group of world leaders from government, business, media, and academia to discuss the major challenges facing the free world.

What sets AEI's Forum apart from other events of its kind, however, is its reputation as one of the most substantive and thought-provoking off-the-record events that features serious, civil debate on both today's urgent issues and those that are further afield. Your participation as a speaker would add great value to these conversations.

I very much hope you will be able to join us next year. I have enclosed the agenda and participant list from this year's World Forum, and I will share with you the 2024 program agenda as it takes shape.

With warm regards,

Robert Doar
President
American Enterprise Institute

7:30–9:30 a.m.	Breakfast Opens	The Cloister
8:00–9:00 a.m.	Early Bird Sessions An Agenda for Restoring Our Constitution Jack Landman Goldsmith Yuval Levin Patrick McHenry Adam J. White (Moderator)	The Cloister When Americans think about threats to the Constitution today, we tend to have in mind particular individuals or extreme events. But the broader dysfunction of key institutions is a deeper and more complicated problem. What would it take to restore the basic balance of our system of government—to help Congress, the executive branch, the courts, the states, and the public reclaim their proper roles? And how can we help the American people understand our constitutional challenges in their full scope?
	Is There Life in China After the Chinese Communist Party? Mike Gallagher John Garnaut Daniel Tobin Dan Blumenthal (Moderator)	Is the Chinese Communist Party's (CCP) rule fundamentally stable? Historically, analysts and policymakers have often overestimated the staying power of totalitarian regimes. After a decade of Stalinesque purges by Chairman Xi Jinping, a failed "zero COVID" policy, economic stagnation, and the absence of a succession plan, will the party hold on to power? What is the state of dissent and opposition in China? Has Xi managed to completely destroy all competing centers of power? If a challenge to CCP rule emerged, what might it look like? This panel will discuss whether the US has an interest in CCP stability and what Washington's strategy toward Chinese internal politics should be.
8:00–10:30 a.m.	Special Exhibit The Situation Room: The Wars in Ukraine and the Middle East Frederick W. Kagan Kimberly Kagan	The Cloister Frederick W. Kagan and the Critical Threats Project (CTP) at AEI work closely with their research partner, the Institute for the Study of War (ISW), led by Kimberly Kagan. CTP and ISW are analyzing the ongoing Russian invasion of Ukraine, the Israel-Hamas war, and Iran's activities in the Middle East. The daily update maps are actively used by most major media outlets, including the BBC, CNN, The Guardian , the Financial Times , the New York Times , and Reuters. This session will showcase the most recent CTP-ISW assessments of the conflicts in Ukraine and the Middle East and provide up-to-date information on the crises.
9:30–10:30 a.m.	Breakout Sessions The End of the Neoliberal Consensus? Ami Bera Byron Donalds R. Glenn Hubbard Jason Smith Mark Zandi Alex Brill (Moderator)	The Cloister President Ronald Reagan pursued a supply-side economic agenda. President Bill Clinton famously declared in 1996 that "the era of big government is over" and balanced the federal budget. Subsequent administrations pursued free trade agreements and championed American economic leadership. But Presidents Donald Trump and Joe Biden have abandoned this consensus approach, favoring protectionism for domestic manufacturing, industrial policy, and fiscal irresponsibility. Should the US return to the "neoliberal consensus," or is a larger role for the government in the economy advisable? Is economic nationalism a phase brought on by populism, or does it represent the future for economic policy?

The Long COVID for America's Schools

Nat Malkus
Robert Doar (Introduction)

The COVID-19 pandemic, and policymakers' responses to it, brought unprecedented challenges to the nation's students and schools. Extended school closures, masking fights, and pandemic disruptions led to historic learning losses, uneven enrollment declines, declining student well-being, and skyrocketing chronic absenteeism. Despite $190 billion in federal pandemic relief, schools are still struggling to recover. How did education leaders respond during the pandemic? What are the primary challenges for schools today? What is the outlook for America's public schools after the pandemic?

The War on Poverty at 60

Nicholas Eberstadt
William Galston
Charles Murray
Scott Winship (Moderator)

In January 1964, President Lyndon Johnson declared "unconditional war on poverty in America." By 1973, a strong economy had pushed wages up and unemployment and poverty down. Since then, the official poverty rate has risen slightly, despite vast increases in federal antipoverty spending. At the same time, upward intergenerational mobility is no better, family breakdown has worsened, and rising numbers of men have dropped out of the labor force. Has the expanded safety net—and reforms to it to promote independence—helped or hurt families? Has the American economy failed the neediest among us?

Ami Bera
Garret Graves
Jimmy Panetta
Michael Waltz
Brad Wenstrup

The Cloister Ballroom

The world is more disordered and violent today than at any time in decades. Russia's invasion of Ukraine, the largest armed conflict in Europe since World War II, is entering its third year. The war in Gaza and aggression from Iranian-backed militants throughout the region are drawing the US military back into the Middle East. And a US-China cold war is playing out in Asia and around the globe. While the world becomes more unstable, Americans are debating what role the US should have in global conflicts—or if it should have one at all. Join AEI scholars and other members of the AEI community for a discussion on what the role of American power can and should be in a turbulent era.

Luncheon

A Conversation with Christopher L. Eisgruber and Ben Sasse

Yuval Levin (Moderator)

The Beach Club

America's universities are among the nation's greatest assets and sources of pride. But from battles over free expression and affirmative action to an explosion of antisemitism, campus controversies have been rampant in recent years, and many Americans worry about where the academy is headed. In this session, the presidents of Princeton University and the University of Florida will consider the good, the bad, and the ugly of this moment on campus.

1:15–2:00 p.m.

Luncheon

A Conversation with Mike Waltz and Jimmy Panetta

Sean Koffel (Moderator)

The Lodge, Trophy Room

A discussion with Rep. Michael Waltz and Rep. Jimmy Panetta, two military veterans, about their transition from uniformed military service to elected leadership and how their service background informs their policy outlook and their service in the House.

Freedom's Forge Redux: Can America Restore Its "Arsenal of Democracy"?

Eric Fanning
 Deb Fischer
 Rex Geveden
 Heather Wilson
 Mackenzie Eaglen (Moderator)

The Cloister

Deliberate policy choices over the past 30 years have created a military manufacturing and tech ecosystem that is struggling to ramp up to support allies at war in two regions. Compounding the challenge is that the Pentagon is no longer a monopsony buyer, able to move markets and attract competition. Knocked off its perch as a core inventor of world-changing technologies like the internet and artificial intelligence, the US military must now innovate with existing commercial technologies. How can the defense bureaucracy help industries ranging from the traditional to software startups? Can the American military refill its magazines while preparing for potential war in a third theater?

The Hamas-Israel War: Next Steps

Haviv Gur
 Bernard Haykel
 Frederick W. Kagan
 Danielle Pletka (Moderator)

October 7, 2023, ushered in a new era in the Middle East. The attack was unlike any the Jewish people had seen since the Holocaust. Iran's complicity is clear. Israel has declared total war against its Gaza enemies. And Iran's proxies have, without serious consequence to Tehran, widened the conflict to target US allies and interests. How will this end? Will there be a state of Palestine as a consequence? War with Lebanon? Can Iran skate scot-free?

Teenage Mental Health—an American Crisis

Katie Britt
 Shelley Moore Capito
 Kay Hymowitz
 Sally Satel
 Naomi Schaefer Riley (Moderator)

A year ago, the surgeon general declared that the decline in youth mental health was "the defining public health crisis of our time." With significant increases in major depressive episodes, anxiety, mood disorders, and self-harm, children and adolescents are clearly suffering. Yet the pervasiveness of harmful technology, the breakdown of institutions like family and religion, and a rise in substance abuse make it hard to pinpoint the precise cause of this crisis. Where did the problem originate? And how will we get ourselves out of it?

		It seems as if every day brings new advances in artificial intelligence. OpenAI's GPT-4 passes not only the Turing test but the bar exam and medical school exams. Beyond natural language processing, AI could lead to substantial advances in drug discovery, revolutionize education, and stop a mass extinction event. But concerns abound. AI will lead to substantial economic disruption and threatens to displace millions of workers. Some experts are even more worried, suggesting that AI could lead to the extinction of the human race. Join our panel of scientists, economists, and technologists on the front lines of AI development to discuss these amazing technological developments—and what the future might hold.

		Under Xi Jinping's rule, the Chinese Communist Party is publicly preparing to force unification between Taiwan and mainland China, potentially through military action. Many in Washington fear that a major war between the US and China over Taiwan's independence is right around the corner. But what if China can force unification without starting a devastating war? What are China's other roads to achieving its goals in Taiwan? And how can the US and a coalition of other countries prepare for and forestall other scenarios? Join Dan Blumenthal and Frederick W. Kagan for a conversation about their new major project, the Coalition Defense of Taiwan, and their initial findings.

2024 AGENDA*Conversations with Senate Republicans

AEI scholars Rob Portman and Marc Thiessen will conduct wide-ranging interviews with Senate Republicans on important foreign and domestic policy issues, including America's role in the world, rebuilding the nation's military, changes to our immigration system, and fighting inflation.
