Subject: Invitation to Speak at the K&L Gates Initiative's Conference on "Generative AI: Ethics and Governance"

Dear Max,

I hope my email finds you well. I am writing to invite you to participate in an expert panel at the upcoming conference hosted by the K&L Gates Initiative in Ethics and Computational Technologies at Carnegie Mellon University on "Generative AI: Ethics and Governance". The 2-day conference will be held on our Pittsburgh campus on March 10-11th, 2025. I hope you would consider joining us.

Please visit this page for a quick look at the major events he K&L Gates initiative has previously hosted on campus and externally. This conference is part of a broader initiative at CMU to share new research and scholarship, as well as offer a forum for academics and policymakers on critical issues and educate the public. Knowing how this syncs with your work, I trust you will find this a valuable forum to share your expertise.

Themes and topics of the conference: Generative AI is poised to create massive economic and societal impacts across a wide range of domains. This conference seeks to illuminate the new ethical considerations and societal implications of the technology, and elucidate the pros and cons of existing approaches to the governance of the technology to ensure safe, responsible, and ethical use. Our conceptualization of governance consists of multiple layers, operationalized by a variety of AI actors at the international, national, local, and organizational levels.

- Day 1 of the conference will bring together experts from government, industry, academia, and civil society to discuss the sector-agnostic governance of GenAI at these four levels.
- Day 2 of the conference focuses on specific applications of the technology, and their impact on climate, democracy, labor, and innovation. Through moderated roundtables, experts will delve into sector-specific governance of GenAI.

Outcomes: An accessible summary of the content produced through these expert discussions will be published through the K&L Gates initiative's website.

Your role: You are invited to participate in the expert panel discussion on Governmental Policies on Generative AI as a panelist. The panel is 75 minutes long and it will be held on March 10th, 1:30-2:45 p.m. At the beginning of the panel, panelists each provide a 10-minutes talk offering their reflections on the topic. The remaining 45 minutes will be dedicated to a moderated Q&A with input from the audience. A tentative recommended set of questions will be shared with you ahead of time for your input. The panel will be moderated by Hon. Mike Doyle.

Logistics: I've asked Benedicta Amenyo, Project Manager for the K&L Gates Initiative (Benedicta Amenyo bamenyo@andrew.cmu.edu), to follow-up and answer any questions you may have about the logistics of attending the conference and arranging your visit. We would greatly appreciate it if you can respond to this invitation by Dec 7th, 2024.

Thank you for considering this invitation, and I hope to see you at the event.

Warm regards,

Hoda Heidari

Purpose and Details

Provide a brief description of the trip.

We're inviting Max Katz, Policy Advisor to participate in an expert panel discussion on Governmental Policies on Generative AI at the CMU-K&L Gates Conference on Generative AI: Ethics and Governance.

Explain how the purpose of the trip relates to your organization's mission.

The K&L Gates Initiative in Ethics and Computational Technologies aims to elucidate ethical and societal issues that arise in the development or use of computational technologies, including issues of fairness and justice, impact on individual autonomy and wellbeing, stakeholder participation and community empowerment, accountability and governance, promoting benefits and mitigating risks and other related concerns. On an annual basis, the Initiative brings together experts to present and discuss research in the fields of ethics and computational technologies to foster collaborations between government, policy, and corporations involved in creating, regulating, and assessing computational technologies. This year's conference on Ethics and Governance seeks to illuminate the new ethical considerations and societal implications of the technology, and elucidate the pros and cons of existing approaches to the governance of the technology to ensure safe, responsible, and ethical use.

Is your organization the only sponsor for this trip?

● Yes ○ No
