Dear Harrison,

Want a firsthand look at how federal broadband policy is playing out on the ground in rural America?

The Foundation for Rural Service (FRS) invites you to join us in August for our 2026 Congressional Broadband Tour through South Dakota and Iowa, with potential stops in Minnesota and Nebraska, to explore how broadband investment is strengthening rural communities and where challenges remain. This is a unique opportunity to see real-world broadband deployment, meet the providers doing the work, and hear directly from the people and communities impacted by federal programs.

During the tour, participants will visit community-based rural broadband providers, fiber construction and deployment sites, broadband-enabled farms, telehealth and rural healthcare facilities, business and workforce hubs, and tribal lands. You will gain insight into broadband affordability, permitting and pole attachment challenges, workforce needs, sustainability of federal programs, and the role broadband plays in supporting education, agriculture, public safety, commerce, and rural economic development while experiencing one of the most beautiful regions of the country. A detailed itinerary will be available in the coming weeks.

Details:

- Travel dates: Tuesday, August 11 – Friday, August 14; Round Trip from Washington, DC, to Sioux Falls, South Dakota.
- Cost and Ethics Compliance: The trip includes airfare, lodging, ground transportation, and meals (within federal per diem rates). The tour will comply fully with House and Senate ethics rules governing privately sponsored travel for congressional staff.

Space is Limited! Participation is limited to 20 staff members and will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. A firm commitment will be needed by early July, but staff who are interested are encouraged to reserve a spot now. A waitlist will also be maintained. To reserve a space or request additional information, please contact: Pam Becker at pbecker@frs.org or 703-346-0817.

About the Foundation for Rural Service (FRS): FRS is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization based in Arlington, Virginia, and the philanthropic arm of NTCA–The Rural Broadband Association. FOUNDATION FOR RURAL SERVICE

FRS Congressional Broadband Tour
South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, and Nebraska
August 11-14, 2026

The Foundation for Rural Service (FRS) is a 501c3 non-profit dedicated to enhancing quality of life in America by promoting a better understanding of rural issues. The vision of FRS is to harness the power of the rural communications industry to enrich lives in America.

The purpose of this trip is to educate Capitol Hill staff on the geographic and financial challenges of providing robust broadband service to remote rural areas, as well as to highlight the role rural telecom companies play in providing these essential services that support education, commercial activity, agriculture, health, and public safety. Attendees will meet with a range of small, rural telecommunications companies in the selected areas as well as companies that rely on broadband to provide essential services to their communities. The group will also visit rural community leaders and discuss ways in which the states have been enhanced by broadband applications. Drive times will provide an opportunity for educational sessions on the bus, as well as illustrate the difficulty of serving "last mile" areas in rural states.

No registered federal lobbyists will attend this trip. All expenses will be paid in full by the Foundation for Rural Service (FRS) and will be subject to the daily per diem allowances for Senate and House employees—all meals, lodging, and transportation for staffers will be covered by FRS within these allowance rates. There will be at least 6.5 hours of educational content each day.

10:45 – 11:45 a.m. Tour Siouxland Ethanol -- operational since 2007, this facility turns locally grown corn into 100 million gallons of renewable fuel each year. Northeast Nebraska Telephone Company provides the broadband service necessary for operations.

In 2003, local leaders established the Dakota County Economic Development Committee, which was the impetus for Siouxland Ethanol, LLC. Project leaders contacted seed investors, who contributed $1 million to fund a feasibility study and corn origination study. The committee knew the area's strong transportation system (including rail and hard-surface roads), reliable and cost-effective utilities, groundwater and discharge water sources, and abundant corn available in and around Dakota County could contribute to a successful ethanol plant.

Siouxland Ethanol was formed as a limited liability company in Nebraska in August 2004 and an equity drive quickly raised $36 million. In addition to the equity drive, Siouxland Ethanol also used several economic development incentives from the State of Nebraska, as well as a Community Development Block Grant and a TIF district established by the Village of Jackson, to finance the plant.

Designed to produce 50 million gallons of ethanol each year, Siouxland Ethanol became operational in May 2007. The plant consumes 30 million bushels of corn each year to produce a clean-burning, high-octane gasoline additive. This corn is purchased from local farmers and elevators and the resources are returned to local communities.

This trip is centered around rural broadband deployment and connectivity. I work as the tech/telecom staffer for Senator Jon Husted (R-OH) and so much of my work is focused on expanding broadband access to rural and economically depressed areas in the state. Ohio itself, specifically in the Southeastern region, has a large number of households in rural areas that do not have connectivity. This trip will be a valuable educational experience for me to learn more about rural connectivity so I can better understand the issues that impact Ohioans.
