Dear Peter-Anthony,

I hope you are keeping well. Thank you again for joining us at IPBC Global in Boston earlier this year, it was a pleasure to meet you and have you sharing your expertise with our audience.

I'm reaching out to warmly invite you to join us as a speaker at IPBC Asia 2025, taking place in Tokyo from 18 to 20 November. This year's event promises to be our most ambitious yet, with over 750 senior IP leaders and decision-makers expected to attend from across the globe.

IPBC Asia is more than just a conference, it's where the global IP elite gather to shape the future of the industry. This year's agenda features cutting-edge discussions on SEP litigation, AI policy, IP-backed finance, and China's evolving IP strategy. With the Japan Patent Office and leading multinationals like Xiaomi participating, the event offers a unique opportunity to engage with the region's most influential voices.

We would be honoured should you agree to join us as a speaker at the event on our panel discussion titled, Panel: US policy, power and patents. Given your distinguished career and deep expertise in the US IP landscape, your perspective would be invaluable to this timely and high-level conversation. Please find the session details below and working agenda attached.

Panel: US policy, power and patents

11.50-12.50 – Thursday 20 November

- All change at the USPTO: what to expect in the coming months
- Institution decisions and discretionary denials at the PTAB
- Pending legislation: what's out, what's in and what's next?

We are still in the early stages of speaker acquisition and would be delighted to keep you updated as the agenda evolves. It would be a privilege to have your voice represented once again on our stage.

If you have any recommendations for other speakers or organisations that could add value to the programme, I would be very grateful for your suggestions.

Thank you for considering this invitation. Please don't hesitate to reach out if you have any questions, I'd be happy to provide more details.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,
Isobel
