AMERICAN LANDS PROJECT

Allison Herwitt
Chief of Staff
Senator Chris Murphy
136 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Allison,

The American Lands Project appreciates your interest in the Tongass National Forest in Southeast Alaska and public lands in the state of Alaska. At nearly 17 million acres, the Tongass is the largest National Forest in the country. It is home to wild salmon watersheds that are among the most productive in the country, and it supports a $1 billion commercial fishing industry. The region's glaciers, forests, and wildlife are a global attraction that generates another $1 billion from tourism annually. The region's forests provide key subsistence resources to the Alaska Native community and broader cultural and historic connections to the land. Forest management for the Tongass National Forest has shifted significantly over the years, from phasing out old growth logging to re-opening significant parts of the forest to road building and timber harvest.

We would like to invite you to join American Lands Project for a trip to the Tongass National Forest from August 9th to 15th, 2026. The trip will be fully sponsored by ALP, including all travel, lodging, and meals, and provides the opportunity to see and experience the Tongass National Forest firsthand, learn about ecological, cultural and economic facets of the region and state, and use the region as a lens through which to gain knowledge on a broader array of public lands topics in the State of Alaska. We will follow-up with the formal 2026 trip itinerary and will assist with the required documentation for submission to the Senate Committee on Ethics.

Please let me know if I can be helpful in answering any questions about the proposed trip, and I hope you will be able to join us. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Natalie Smink
Education & Trip Coordinator

History of Congressional Travel

American Lands Project (ALP) has organized a variety of sponsored travel opportunities for Senate and House members and staff over the last few years to locations such as Southeast Alaska, America's Arctic, the Owyhee Canyonlands, and the Rio Grande del Norte National Monument. In 2023, ALP hosted three trips to the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge for House Members and Senate staff, and two trips to the Tongass National Forest for a Senate Member and Senate and House Staff. In 2024, ALP hosted five trips to the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge for a Senate Member, a House Member, Senate staff, and House Staff; and one trip to the Tongass National Forest for House staff. In 2025, ALP hosted four trips to the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge for two House Members, Senate staff, and House staff; and two trips to the Tongass National Forest for two House Members, Senate staff, and House staff. In May 2026, ALP hosted a trip to the Rio Grande del Norte National Monument for Senate staff.

Educational Activities

ALP conducts educational briefings for decision-makers in Washington, DC, and works in coalition with diverse organizations engaged with policies surrounding the use and management of America's public lands and waters. ALP also provides educational trips for non-congressional organizations.

Monday, August 10, 2026

Attendees: Allison Herwitt, Coti Haia, Lucas Smith, Heather Urban, Dan Kirkwood, Jeffrey and Christine Smith (Owners and Operators of the M/V David B), Matt Millner (Deckhand, M/V David B)

- Travel from Juneau, AK to Tenakee Springs, AK
  - 8:00 a.m. - 8:30 a.m. Ground transportation to Juneau Airport
  - 9:00 a.m. Depart Juneau (JNU), Alaska Seaplanes,
  - 9:35 a.m. Arrive at Tenakee Springs (TKE)

- 10:00 a.m. - 10:45 a.m. Board the Motor Vessel David B and receive an introduction to the vessel which will serve as both water-taxi and lodging through August 13th to access remote areas of the Tongass National Forest not accessible by road. Guests will receive a safety training from Jeffrey and Christine Smith, the owners and operators of the vessel.

- 10:45 - 11:45 a.m. Discuss subsistence uses and how subsistence supports rural Alaskan communities like Tenakee Springs across the state. Federal law defines subsistence use as "the customary and traditional uses by rural Alaska residents of wild, renewable resources for such direct personal or family consumption as food, shelter, fuel, clothing, tools or transportation; the making and selling of handicraft articles… for barter or sharing for personal or family consumption; and for customary trade."

- 11:45 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. Break

- 12:00 p.m. - 1:30 p.m. Working Lunch: Introductory discussion of Southeast Alaska and the geographies that will be observed during the remainder of the trip. The Tongass National Forest is the largest national forest in the country, totalling 16.7 million acres of land in Southeast Alaska, and is the traditional homeland of three distinct Alaska Native tribes: Tlingit, Haida, and Tsimshian. The forest represents the largest intact tract of coastal temperate rainforest on earth. With much of the forest consisting of remote islands and roadless areas, visiting by boat or air is the only way to view much of the Forest.

- 1:30 p.m. - 2:30 p.m. Review maps of the State of Alaska to gain a better understanding of the geography, watersheds, topography, and international boundaries of the State as they relate to locations guests will visit on the trip, as well as the State as a whole.

- 2:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m. Onshore hike. Visit a designated Inventoried Roadless Area on the Tongass National Forest and discuss how the forest is managed at the watershed level and the history of the Roadless Rule in Southeast Alaska. Talk about recent changes to the rule nationally and within the Tongass National Forest.

(All flight times are subject to change based on weather)*

Observe old-growth forests and discuss the role that public lands in Alaska play in our nation's natural resource stewardship. Alaska contains one-third of the country's federally managed lands and represents a uniquely valuable national asset. These lands contain a significant share of the nation's natural carbon reserves underscoring Alaska's key role in maintaining healthy landscapes while supporting long-term environmental and economic stability.

- 4:30 p.m. - 5:30 p.m. Break

- 5:30 p.m. – 7:00 p.m. Working Dinner: Learn from Motor Vessel David B owners Jeffrey and Christine Smith about the role of small boat tourism in Alaska and how small tourism businesses operate in the Southeast Alaskan economy.

Tuesday, August 11, 2026
Attendees: Allison Herwitt, Coti Haia, Lucas Smith, Heather Urban, Dan Kirkwood, Christine Smith, Jeffrey Smith, Matt Millner

- 8:00 a.m. – 9:00 a.m. Breakfast on the David B.

- 9:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m. Discussion of public lands in the state of Alaska. Review maps and discuss the various land management priorities for conservation, resource development, research, and subsistence uses on tribal, state, and federal lands in the State of Alaska.

- 10:30 a.m. – 11:30 p.m. View the surrounding landscape from the deck and discuss Southeast Alaska communities, the expansion of tourism into more remote parts of the Tongass National Forest, the significance of the forest to the regional economy, and the economic challenges of seasonal employment in communities throughout the region.

- 11:30 p.m. - 1:00 p.m. Working Lunch: Discussion presenting an overview of the current Tongass Forest Plan and plans the US Forest Service has announced for updating the Forest Plan in the coming years. The current Forest Plan was developed in 1997, and a revision process for the Tongass Forest Plan, announced in 2023, is currently in progress.

- 1:00 p.m. - 1:30 p.m. Break

- 1:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m. Guided Hike onshore. On the hike, view Alaska's iconic wildlife and discuss how natural systems function in this landscape and the importance of the Tongass National Forest to salmon, grizzly bears, marine mammals, and other regional wildlife. Learn about the important interactions between wild salmon and other Alaskan wildlife and discuss the economic implications of tourism and wildlife viewing in Alaska.

- 4:30 p.m. – 5:30 p.m. Break

(All flight times are subject to change based on weather)*

- 5:30 p.m. - 7:00 p.m. Working Dinner: Discuss details surrounding historic and current economic drivers of Southeast Alaska, including natural resource extraction, tourism, commercial and recreational fishing, and land restoration. Discuss the role of federal initiatives in the region, such as the Southeast Alaska Sustainability Strategy, its history and current status, and the recent history of partnerships with the U.S. Forest Service, and their impact on the region and its economy.

Wednesday, August 12, 2026
Attendees: Allison Herwitt, Coti Haia, Lucas Smith, Heather Urban, Dan Kirkwood, Christine Smith, Jeffrey Smith, Matt Millner

- 8:00 a.m. – 9:00 a.m. Breakfast on David B

- 9:00 a.m. – 11:30 a.m. Onshore hike to observe salmon spawning habitat. Discussion on the economic value of healthy Tongass watersheds to salmon fisheries and harvests. Rivers, lakes, and streams in the Tongass produce 80% of the commercial salmon harvested annually from Southeast Alaska. This harvest of about 50 million salmon is valued at $60 million annually.

- 11:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. Discussion regarding the history and legislation that have shaped public lands and land management practices in Alaska, focusing on the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act of 1980 (ANILCA). Review the history and landscape-shaping impacts of ANILCA, which designated most of the National Park Service units in Alaska as well as wilderness areas, national wildlife refuges, and national monuments across the state. ANILCA also established a priority for subsistence uses of fish and wildlife resources for rural residents during times of scarcity. ANILCA is the foundation of federal land management in Alaska and is essential to understanding current discussions surrounding resource management and utilization in Alaska.

- 12:30 p.m. - 1:30 p.m. Working Lunch: Discussion of the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act of 1971 (ANCSA): Review the history and key elements of ANCSA, which extinguished aboriginal land title in Alaska, divided the state into 12 regions based on the common heritage and shared interests of the Alaska Native people within each geographic area, and mandated the creation of for-profit entities - which Congress termed "Alaska Native Corporations" - tasked with promoting the social, cultural, and economic advancement of Alaska Native people and communities. Familiarize guests with the Alaska Native Corporations active in SE Alaska.
