Advancing U.S. leadership in international conservation through public and private partnerships and developing the next generation of Congressional conservation leaders

Ms. Molly Carpenter
Office of Senator Mike Crapo
By Electronic Delivery

Dear Molly,

We are pleased to invite you to join a Congressional Staff Delegation to visit Mozambique from May 2 - 10, 2026, inclusive of travel days.

The primary purpose of this mission is to familiarize and educate the delegation about the critical role that public-private partnerships play in conservation and sound natural resource management for poverty alleviation, food security, sustainable development, and security in Mozambique and the surrounding region, as well as their impact on the U.S.

While in Mozambique, participants will see the creative ways Gorongosa National Park has helped lead the wildlife restoration process in Mozambique through a four-pillar approach: tourism, conservation, science, and community. The delegation will also learn about the important community development initiatives that are essential aspects of good natural resource management policy. Gorongosa's surrounding communities have a high childhood malnutrition rate, particularly in the 5 and under age group. The delegation will see Gorongosa's partnerships that are helping meet the acute needs of children who are experiencing wasting, while at the same time working to help prevent wasting to begin with and improve the education and access to more nutritious food. In Mozambique's capital, Maputo, participants will see a public health initiative that is being supported by the US government and visit a local marine park to see how protected area management includes the local communities subsistence fishing needs.

We have shared a more detailed agenda, as well as required private sponsor travel forms. Trip expenses, including transportation, lodging, meals, and associated fees will be covered by ICCF.

ICCF is a 501 (c)(3) nonprofit organization, which acts as an informal secretariat to the leadership of the bipartisan International Conservation Caucus and Oceans Caucus, with the mission to advance U.S. leadership in international conservation and develop the next generation of congressional conservation leaders.

Thank you for taking the time to learn more about this remarkable part of the world and the efforts that are underway to ensure its conservation for the benefit of local communities and the world at large for this and future generations. We look forward to having you join us.

Sincerely,

Susan Lylis
Executive Vice President, ICCF

10:00 - 10:30	Depart Maputo Airport for Public Health Lab
10:30 - 12:30	Tour of Public Health Lab run by FHI 360 FHI 360 is a non-profit that mobilizes research, resources and relationships so that people everywhere can access the opportunities they need to lead full, healthy lives. In Mozambique, FHI 360 works closely with government and local partners to design and implement community-level programs to tackle key social and health issues.

ICCF

The delegation will visit a public health lab that receives US Government funding and has improved Mozambique's response to HIV and AIDS, tuberculosis (TB), malaria and undernutrition, as well as strengthening the country's humanitarian assistance (crisis response); maternal, newborn and child health (MNCH) services; and government and local Institutions.

12:30 - 1:00 Transfer to hotel and check in

13:30 - 14:30 Lunch briefing with Dan Mahoney, U.S. Senior Program Manager

Dan will highlight themes of transnational conservation and regional cooperation and discuss the work of the regional network of parliamentary conservation caucuses across Africa as well as various regional transboundary conservation initiatives. He will discuss mechanisms the US can use to support protected area management such as the US Foundation for Natural Security and Counterterrorism.

14:30 - 15:00 Transfer to US Embassy

15:00 - 16:00 Briefing at US Embassy Maputo

The delegation will get a Country Briefing that will focus on U.S.-Mozambique cooperation, Mozambique's political and economic context, security considerations on conservation issues, and U.S.-Mozambique conservation cooperation.

18:00 - 20:00 Dinner with Members of the Mozambique Parliamentary Conservation Caucus

The Mozambique Parliamentary Conservation Caucus is a multiparty forum for members of the Assembly of the Republic to explore solutions to conservation and natural resource management challenges. These legislators play a critical role in the development and implementation of policies related to biodiversity conservation, natural resource management, and community development.

Accommodations: Polana Serena Hotel

Tuesday, May 5th

07:00 - 08:00 Breakfast

ICCF

08:00 - 08:30	Depart hotel for Maputo Marina
08:30 - 09:30	Depart Maputo Marina for day trip to and around Santa Maria Island and Inhaca Island
09:30 - 11:00	Continue through Hells Gate to view fauna and flora in the area and arrive at Santa Maria to meet Peace Parks' head of marine protection for briefing on marine protection efforts and coastline monitoring There are a wide array of habitats on and surrounding Inhaca Island, part of the Maputo Environmental Protection Area (MEPA) established in 2019. On land, there are areas of cultivated fields and grassy plains, as well as dune forests, mudflats and mangrove forests. The forests and mangroves house an extensive number of tree species that serve as perfect habitats for both water and land bird species. The Island's surrounding marine environment houses over 160 coral reef species that support an ecosystem of reef fish, sharks, sea turtles, seabirds and marine mammals. Inhaca Island's waters are visited by whale sharks and manta rays in the summer months.
11:00 - 11:25	Continue via boat and arrive at Inhaca Island
11:30 - 13:00	Lunch briefing with Peace Parks Programme Manager Miguel Goncalves on conservation area management and ecosystem resilience in the Maputo National Park landscape Peace Parks is a co-management partner to the National Administration of Conservation Areas (ANAC) in the Maputo National Park landscape, which includes both the onshore terrestrial and offshore areas - both at sea and in the Maputo Bay area. This region is considered one of the most biologically diverse and endangered ecoregions on Earth. Dominant habitats include extensive mangrove forests, seagrass meadows and coral reefs, which shape biodiversity and the socio-economics of local communities. Risk assessments show that extreme weather events are likely to physically damage ecosystems and negatively impact vulnerable communities who are heavily reliant on natural resources. The effects are felt by these vital ecosystems and small-scale fisheries, as are knock-on effects on tourism revenue.
13:30 - 15:30	Visit to local community and briefing with Peace Parks community program representative on community livelihoods and sustainable fisheries At least 70% of the population living along the coastline has relied heavily on an exhaustible fish resource. Interventions to support sustainable fisheries have included tools to store catch to sell more and higher quality fish, fish farming which provides an ideal low-impact, high-yield alternative to fishing, and vocational training to break the cycle of poverty.

ICCF

15:30 - 17:00 Return to Maputo by boat via Portuguese Island

Portuguese Island is a small barrier island next to Inhaca that has pristine marine environments, mainly because it is undeveloped. The short stop at Portuguese Island will show the delegation a pristine coastal environment that lacks any commercial coastal development.

17:00 - 17:30 Return to hotel

19:00 - 20:30 Dinner briefing with local conservation organizations on transnational conservation and public-private partnerships

ICCF stakeholders and others implementing conservation and development projects in Mozambique and the region will convene to brief the delegation on their respective initiatives, successes, and challenges. Invited participants:

- African Parks
- Allen Institute for Artificial Intelligence (AI2)
- Centro Terra Viva
- Conservation International
- CrossBoundary Group
- ExxonMobil
- Fauna and Flora International

Wednesday, May 6th

07:00 - 08:00 Wake up and breakfast

08:00 - 09:00 Depart for Maputo Airport

09:45 - 11:30 Charter flight to Chitengo Airstrip

ICCF

11:30 - 12:00	Transfer to Chicari Camp from the airstrip
12:00 - 12:30	Check into Chicari Camp
12:30 - 14:00	Lunch briefing with park representatives to introduce the delegation to Gorongosa National Park

Gorongosa National Park is perhaps Africa's greatest wildlife restoration story: a 20-year Public-Private Partnership between the Government of Mozambique and the Gorongosa Restoration Project, a U.S. non-profit Organization.

In 2007, a 20-year agreement with the Government of Mozambique was signed to restore and co-manage the country's flagship national park, Gorongosa. The Gorongosa team has reintroduced species to the ecosystem, planted more than one million trees in the Mt. Gorongosa rainforest, created an international Restoration Ecology science research center, established eco-tourism in the Park, and provides health and education programs to the local communities living near the Park's borders.

14:00 - 17:00	Visit to Vinho Community to showcase Gorongosa's human development partnerships

Gorongosa has a robust community development program with the neighboring communities. The delegation will visit Vinho to see the beehive fences and community engagement, the agriculture demonstration plots, the pre-school, girls clubs, and eco-clubs, and the health clinic and nutrition interventions.

17:30 - 18:00	Return to camp
18:00 - 20:00	Dinner briefing at camp with Greg Garr

In 2004 Greg Carr was invited by the Government of Mozambique to join with them in the management of Gorongosa National Park. In 2008, after a three-year period of preparation, his foundation signed a 20-year contract to collaborate. Public-private partnerships have proven to be key to successful conservation outcomes. The US has a new funding mechanism, the US Foundation for Natural Security and Counterterrorism, that would leverage private capital 2:1 and would fund projects like those being implemented by the Carr Foundation.

Greg Carr co-founded Boston Technology, an international telecommunications firm, and served as its chair until 1998. From 1996-1998 he was chair of Prodigy, a global Internet service provider. He also co-founded Africa Online in 1996 and served as its chair until 1998. In 1998 Carr resigned from his for-profit boards and dedicated himself to humanitarian activities. In 1999, he founded the Carr Center for Human Rights Policy at Harvard University.

Accommodations: Chicari Camp

Thursday, May 7th

06:30 - 07:30 Early breakfast at the camp

07:30 Depart for full day trip to Mount Gorongosa

09:30 - 10:30 Visit the coffee and honey factory in Mapombué

Gorongosa has a large-scale agroforestry initiative and environmental benefits. The program targets one of the most important hotspots for biodiversity in the region and one of the most politically contentious areas in Mozambique. Gorongosa Coffee works with local farmers and their families living in three remote communities. These communities all endorse a common vision of the integrated relationship between sustainable land use, community development, and conservation value.

10:30 - 11:30 Continue up to Mt Gorongosa

11:30 - 12:30 Visit the nurseries and coffee plantation

12:30 - 13:30 Lunch

13:30 - 14:15 Depart for primary school visit

14:15 - 16:15 Childhood malnutrition is an acute health problem in Mozambique; 40% of Children under 5 are malnourished. Gorongosa targets the health of Mothers and their children to combat this trend in the surrounding Communities.

The delegation will visit Canda Health Facility and Candico Primary School that are supported by UNICEF.

The Canda Health Facility offers an opportunity to observe integrated services, including acute malnutrition screening (RUTF), vitamin A supplementation, and WASH improvements—such as water systems and sanitation facilities.

Candico Primary School visit will allow us to showcase resilience classrooms and sanitation facilities. The visit will facilitate a brief interaction with the school council, adolescents, and teachers, and how they engage with the toddlers and local families.

16:15 - 17:45 Return to camp

17:45 - 18:45 Break

19:00 - 21:00 Dinner at Camp with Gorongosa's Director of Education and Director of Health

Zondai Hlungwani, Director of Education, and Pio Vitorino, Director of Health, will discuss the importance of a community-driven conservation Economy and the role it plays in access to education and health services. . Humans have lived in and around Gorongosa National Park for centuries; farming, fishing, raising family, and they are an integral part of the Park ecosystem. Currently, there are almost 200,000 people living in traditional communities around the Park. National parks can serve as engines of human development; promoting international investment and creating jobs in operations, science, and tourism. Development is critical to the success of biodiversity conservation.

Friday, May 8th

06:30 - 09:00 Field visit with the Pangolin Project research team

The Pangolin Project at Gorongosa National Park was established with a mission to rescue, rehabilitate, and reintroduce pangolins into their natural habitat. This project is a collaboration between Gorongosa's conservation team, local communities, and international partners. The initiative involves multiple facets of wildlife conservation, including anti-poaching patrols, community education, and scientific research.

The delegation will go out with the research team to track and see Pangolins first hand.

09:00- 10:30 Breakfast briefing with Gorongosa Department of Conservation

The wildlife in Mozambique was nearly completely wiped out by the civil war and hence genetic variation severely suffered, further threatening the reproductive strength and sustainability of the wildlife populations. Conservation efforts in the park have worked to rebuild genetic variation and strengthen populations.

The Department employs over 300 people, 99% of whom are Mozambican. Their wide-ranging approach includes wildlife management, animal reintroductions, conservation technology, law enforcement, and managing human wildlife coexistence.

10:30 - 11:00 Walk over to the Pangolin Conservation Center

11:00 - 11:30 Visit the Pangolin Rehabilitation Center

Gorongosa's wildlife veterinarian Mércia Ângela will brief the group on pangolin conservation efforts and the One Health Initiative. Pangolins are the world's most trafficked mammal. The delegation will see first hand the work of Gorongosa's rangers in rescuing pangolins from poachers and traffickers, and returning them to the wild.

Gorongosa is partnering with the One Health Initiative to help learn more about the connections between the health of people and wildlife as well as ways to prevent zoonotic diseases and meet future local and global health challenges.

11:30 - 12:00 Walk over to the E.O. Wilson Biodiversity Laboratory

12:00- 12:30 Visit to E.O. Wilson Biodiversity Laboratory

Researchers will present about the scientific programs & research activities hosted by the facility and its value for the landscape health of the park and science around the world. The Edward O. Wilson Laboratory is a research facility at Gorongosa National Park, an important hub of scientific and educational activity in Mozambique. It has been created to explore, document, and protect biodiversity of Gorongosa National Park as well as to offer research and training opportunities in biodiversity-related fields for students and conservation leaders in Mozambique.

12:30 -13:00 Drive back to camp

13:00 - 14:30 Lunch

14:30 - 16:00 Break

16:00 - 18:30 Field visit and briefing on predator conservation and combating wildlife trafficking

Illegal wildlife trade of ivory, rhino horn, wood products, and other products is still a problem in Eastern and Southern Africa. Illegal wildlife products do not just harm natural populations, often endangered, but are also a substantial lifeline to African-based terrorism. These groups, which are systematically exploiting porous borders and weak governance and hindering sustainable economic activities, have the potential to set back African development by decades and create large swaths of ungovernable land and new hotbeds for insurgencies.

The delegation will follow park ranger teams in tracking predator populations and discuss efforts in the park to combat poaching. Patrol teams focus on anti-poaching in core lion areas identified with the use of GPS-collars. Teams systematically "sweep" and secure well defined blocks to find and remove snares, and create "safe zones" – these sweeps ensure the habitat is safe for all species, but as a result there has been a 95% reduction in snaring of lions and a 65% decline in snares and traps that once killed and maimed 1/3 of lions.

18:30- 20:30 Dinner briefing with Gorongosa Park Warden

Pedro Estêvão Muagura joined Gorongosa National Park in 2006 as an instructor to help train workers as part of the reforestation program on Mount Gorongosa. In June 2010, he joined the Gorongosa team full-time as coordinator of the reforestation program of Gorongosa Park and mountain. In 2012, he was appointed Director of Conservation for Gorongosa National Park.

Pedro will discuss the challenges Gorongosa has faced historically with civil war and poachers as well as the insurgency of ISIS Mozambique. Although this terrorist group threatens the North, they have targeted protected areas and hunting camps which speaks to the importance of well managed parks as a means to combat these networks.
