ATTACHMENT 1 – CHANGES FROM APPROVED PRE-TRAVEL

Note: Material changes to a trip that occur after the Committee has issued an approval letter may invalidate the Committee's approval. Please contact the Committee with any questions regarding changes to an approved trip.

Were there any changes to the pre-approved travel expenses? (Transportation, Meals, Lodging, Other)?

Yes No

Expense Change	Revised Amount	Explanation
Transportation	$347.00	The final total transportation cost was less than the original total. This was due to a refund on the departure ticket cost from Amtrak because of a significant delay on the departure train from DC to New York on January 20.

Were there any changes to the pre-approved itinerary?

Yes No

Explanation: Due to change in scheduling availability, the speakers at Palantir were Andrew Ehrich, Forward Deployed Engineer, and Beth Holz, Deployment Strategist. Additional speakers at Meta were Simon Whitcomb, Vice President, Global Business Group, North America, Tony Wang, Owner of the Cat Cafe, Erica Pietrzyk, owner of Pietrzyk Pierogis, Victoria Jeffries, Director of AI Policy, and Darren Touch, Wearables Public Policy Manager.

Were there any additional changes to the pre-approved trip?

Yes No

Dear Connor,

As you know, IFC is a nonpartisan 501(c)(3) organization committed to helping the public, Congress, and federal agencies better understand artificial intelligence, its applications across industries, and its implications for our future. Our mission is to provide educational experiences that are dynamic, hands-on, and grounded in real-world examples.

To enhance understanding of AI's application in business and its development, we are pleased to invite you to an educational trip to New York City, scheduled for January 20-22, 2026.

Attached, you will find all the necessary information to submit your approval to the Ethics Committee. It includes a draft of the schedule for the trip, a list of attendees invited, and IFC's sponsor form.

Due to limited space, we kindly request that you confirm your intention to participate and submit your documents before 5:00 PM ET on Friday, December 12. If you are unable to attend and will not be submitting materials to the Ethics Committee, please let us know as soon as possible.

If you have any questions regarding the programming or the trip, please do not hesitate to reach out to me directly at (615) 948-8550 or lacy@innovativefuturecollective.com.

Sincerely,

Lacy Broemel
Director of Programming and Sponsor Engagement

History of Congressional Travel

Innovative Future Collective (IFC) is a 501(c)3 with IRS-approved tax-exempt status that was formed in 2024. In June 2025, it sponsored its first Congressional Travel with a staff delegation to the San Francisco area that provided educational opportunities on the use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) in business, as well as the development of AI. IFC hosted a similar staff delegation educational trip to London in November 2025.

Educational Activities

IFC hosts educational briefings open to the public throughout the country and in Washington, DC. This includes a "scholar series" program, where we bring experts and academics together for panel discussions and Q and A that are open to the public to learn, understand, and question how AI is influencing and shaping industry. We also provide opportunities for the community to see, learn, and experience developments in AI technology.

Purpose and Details

Provide a brief description of the trip.

This is a trip to New York City, with one calendar day of programming, to provide an opportunity for Senate staff to learn about current applications and future prospects of AI technology. It will also include conversations and education on safety and privacy as well as AI in the healthcare and defense industries.

Explain how the purpose of the trip relates to your organization's mission.

The trip will bring together academics, researchers, AI enterpreneurs, and federal policymaklers to share knowledge about AI, including future and current uses. It will address the pros and cons associated with AI. The trip will allow for discussion around AI and visualization of the technology and how it is developed.

Is your organization the only sponsor for this trip?

Yes No

New York City Hotel Justification

We explored numerous hotel options. However, given the characteristics we needed in a hotel to fulfill the purposes of the trip, we had to choose a hotel that exceeded the GSA's stipend in January for the area. The characteristics we needed in a hotel are:

1) Audio/Visual and use of a meeting space for briefing the group before the morning departure
2) Proximity to restaurants and meeting locations to decrease transportation cost and travel time, due to the very brief time for programming
3) Safe area where participants can walk outside
4) On-site hotel food and beverage options late at night and early in the morning due to the tight schedule.

When identifying possibilities that met these qualifications, and had the availability for the group of our size, the selected hotel offered the most competitive rate.

Background:

Traffic Time:
Traffic in and around New York is incredibly heavy and time consuming. Due to the brief nature of the trip– 24 hours "on the ground" of programming– we wanted to minimize the group's time in traffic. Therefore, the hotel selected is within close driving proximity to the site visits and we are also able to host breakfast and lunch at the hotel to reduce transportation time and costs.

Cost of Transportation:
The cost of providing group transportation in New York City is very high per hour. Due to the location of this hotel, we are able to reduce the transportation costs by allowing the group to have breakfast and dinner at the hotel and be nearby the site visits.

Safety:
As the group of staff can be a high target for crime, we were very mindful to do all that is possible to ensure the safety of our group. Therefore, safety of the neighborhood and walkability was an important factor when considering hotels.

Private space in reception/meeting area with AV/Mac Hook up Capabilities:
In order to gather our group ahead of the programming day, we wanted a hotel that enabled us to meet and give a brief overview of the day via a slide presentation for the group near the reception without requiring us to reserve a private room (which would increase costs). Few hotels had such space and fewer would allow us to use it. This further restricted the suitable options. We worked with the selected hotel to provide this private space.

NYC Meal Cost Justification 2026

Regarding the meals, we worked to the best of our ability to meet the per diem.

Breakfast:
We need a private room with AV capabilities to provide a briefing ahead of the program day. We also needed to save time on transportation during our one programming day and not transport to another location for breakfast. We worked with the hotel to secure a private space and negotiated a breakfast rate with the hotel to provide food in a private and safe room to brief the group.

Lunch:
In order to maximize the time the group has "on the ground" in New York for one programming day, the lunch is a "working lunch." Therefore, we require private space for safety and candid conversation among the delegation. Additionally, we needed a restaurant within close proximity to our site visits to save time on transportation. As a result, our options are very limited once those factors are factored in. The restaurant we chose worked with us to provide the lowest per person rate compared to other restaurants in the vicinity of the site visits.

Dinner:
We needed a completely private room to provide a safe space for conversation to debrief the learnings of the day. With our staff and speakers, the room size needs to seat at least 25 comfortably. Most venues that are able to fit groups this size have a minimum spend to book the room, regardless of how many people are eating. Our research (ie calling, emailing and checking online) of restaurants or hotels with this type of space available typically starts at $3,500 min spend. However, we were able to negotiate a lower minimum at the dinner venue at the hotel. By hosting dinner at the hotel, we were also able to ensure safety by limiting transportation in New York City at night and we further saved time and money on additional transportation. This will also allow the staff to safely return to their hotel rooms before an early departure the next morning.

Additionally, it is important to note that restaurants that operate in New York City have several added costs: NYC tax is 8.875%, gratuity of 20%, and 5-8% administration fee at restaurants for private dining which increases the cost.This drives up the cost of any meal in a private space significantly.
