Dear Stephanie,

On behalf of the Global Women's Innovation Network (GlobalWIN), we would like to invite you to join us for an educational bicameral trip to Toronto, Canada. We will depart Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport (DCA) on Sunday, October 4th and programming will begin on that Sunday evening. We will return Wednesday morning, October 7th to Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport (DCA)

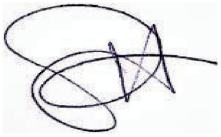

During our time in Toronto, GlobalWIN will host a series of events and meetings with Google, Mastercard, Netflix, Spotify, the Professional Women's Hockey League (PWHL), and the Canadian government. These engagements will provide congressional staff with an opportunity to deepen their understanding of cross-border digital policy, innovation, cybersecurity, financial technology, and the evolving regulatory landscape for global technology platforms.

The delegation will also learn more about the rapid growth of the Professional Women's Hockey League (PWHL) and its impact on investment and opportunities in women's sports.

More information about GlobalWIN can be found on our website. Your work on these topics and active participation in our discussions will be a great asset to our delegation, which will include senior staff from both Republican and Democratic House & Senate offices.

GlobalWIN will cover your travel, hotel, and meal expenses related to the trip and programming, in compliance with the rules under House and Senate ethics laws. The submission of your ethics materials is due by Friday, September 4, 2026.

Sincerely,

Helen Milby
Co-Founder & President

Purpose and Details

Provide a brief description of the trip.

GlobalWIN will bring together bipartisan professional staff from the U.S. House of Representatives and the U.S. Senate for a multi-day program focused on innovation, technology, and public policy. GlobalWIN develops each itinerary to ensure the program is educational, bipartisan, and consistent with congressional ethics requirements. Through meetings, site visits, and roundtable discussions with industry leaders, academic institutions, nonprofit organizations, and subject matter experts, participants will gain firsthand insights into emerging technologies, workforce development, advanced manufacturing, healthcare, artificial intelligence, and other issues relevant to the legislative process.

Explain how the purpose of the trip relates to your organization's mission.

During our time in Toronto, GlobalWIN will host a series of events and meetings with Google, Mastercard, Netflix, Spotify, the Professional Women's Hockey League (PWHL), and the Canadian government. These engagements will provide congressional staff with an opportunity to deepen their understanding of cross-border digital policy, innovation, cybersecurity, financial technology, and the evolving regulatory landscape for global technology platforms.The visit also aligns with GlobalWIN's commitment to expanding opportunities for women and elevating women's leadership. Learning about the rapid growth of the Professional Women's Hockey League (PWHL) will give participants a firsthand look at how investment in women's sports can drive broader conversations about equity, visibility, and economic opportunity. These engagements advance GlobalWIN's mission by fostering informed leadership, strengthening international partnerships, and highlighting sectors where women's influence is growing.
